The eighth annual Chattanooga Drupal Camp will be held at Chattanooga State Community College in Chattanooga, Tennessee. With the help of our venue partner, Chattanooga State Community College, the 2022 event is building on the successes of previous events, which drew attendees from across Tennessee and the Southeastern US.

We have expanded the camp this year to include all open source communities in the area. Since we are the only community run camp, we feel the open source ethos compels us to throw open our camp to everyone else in the community.

We offer several sponsorship opportunities that provide a comprehensive range of promotional options for this year's Drupal Camp.

We are extremely cognizant of the need for our sponsors to receive a positive return on investment for their sponsorship dollars. If your organization would like to discuss additional methods to assist with your return of investment, please let us know.

About Our Camp

Our camp is run by developers, technologists, enthusiasts, and hobbyists alike who want to share and expand our knowledge and skills with others whether they just heard of Drupal/never heard of it before, or been working with it or something like it for years. We welcome diversity of all kinds, and will not turn anyone away for any reason. Our goal is not only to expand people's knowledge of Drupal as a technology, but to grow and strengthen the community around it at the same time.

Why you should support us?

By sponsoring us, not only are you helping us achieve our goal of growing and strengthening the Drupal community, but you will also have a chance to connect with attendees at a high-level developer event. Brand yourself and your products as community-friendly. You will have the endless thanks of the organizers and attendees alike.

Sponsorship Levels

All sponsorship levels above individual sponsorship allows you to set up a booth in the exhibition area. If you or your organization would like to run a booth during our event let us know so we can arrange a table and chairs to be set up at the venue. Each level also comes with a coupon that will allow you, or members of your organization, to register to the event at no extra cost. All sponsor levels offer a callout, and a link to your company website, on Drupal Camp Chattanooga website. All sponsors receive a prominent rotating callout on our homepage, and sponsor badges.
